HOWDY FOLKS!

WOW! What a project. Have you ever tried to build a newspaper? This rag will start as a monthly--but don't be surprised if it starts showing up on the first and fifteenth of each month.

This method of pricelists is the only way we can offer a selection of all collecting fields under one cover.

You can shop this newspaper like you would any other. Check every little corner or listing for your needs or bargains. You, the collector have one major advantage over us. You are more up-to-date in the particular field you collect because you specialize in it. We however, deal in everything so there is no way we can keep up with rarities or sleepers in each field. This gives you the chance to make some good buys.

Generally, I will write an editorial on current subjects. This writing will be on one of my pet peeves ----

MUSEUMS

(Reprinted from one of my earlier price lists)

Are you thinking of donating coins to a museum? There are many fine museums in the country and some not so fine. If you must donate your coins, check out the museum very carefully first. The following may indicate why.

In the past 10 years I have had occasion to observe the way coin "Donations" are handled in a few local, county, and state supported museums or private museums. File cabinets, cigar boxes, tin tobacco cans, etc. with coins mixed in loose, abandoned for years. A once proof Flying Eagle cent mixed in loose in common junk to get scratched and corroded everytime a drawer is opened. A collection of unc. Bust halves in a mildewed brown album with a few keys missing, rim marks in the holes to indicate that a coin had been there. A 1953-P Lincoln cent in an old grey envelope marked "Great Britain Gold, 1787 Spade Guinea, F.D.C." Rare first edition coin reference books used as door stops or dust catchers.

Most museums do not have the facilities to properly display "your" coins nor do they have the know-how to properly attribute or classify anything scarcer than Roosevelt dimes. As a result one or two cases on display may have an impressive exhibit of a collection or accumulation set up by the donor himself, but in the basement will be thousands of coins donated by 300+ people over the past 50 years that have never been processed, catalogued, insured or displayed. Many rumors exist about part time or temporary museum employees who suddenly turn up with priceless collections for sale. Due to a lack of security, burglars have had a picnic while not-so-rare paintings or bric-a-brac were locked up and heavily insured. Many museums cannot maintain constant control or exhibition of the vast numbers of coins entrusted to them and chances are that they already have the coins you were thinking of donating.

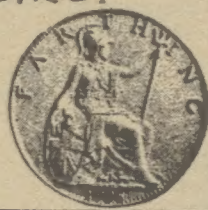

Now to the main point---besides the above, once a collection of coins is donated to a museum, the coins are no longer available to the present or future individual coin collector to have or to hold or to own or to be proud of. Many fine collections are lacking various coins that are sitting in museums where no one can really appreciate them as their own. Once you donate your collection to a museum, you are depriving other collectors of the same pleasure and joy you had in building your collection. Do you want this? Everytime a single coin is removed from availability to the collector, the law of supply and demand takes over, resulting in a higher price to the collector on the items remaining in the "Available" class.

CUSTOMERS COMMENTS

- This will be a regular "LETTERS TO THE EDITOR" section where letters written to us will be published. But since this is the first issue under this new format we have no current letters to print. Lets use the space to get some ideas about how to make this newspaper the best in it's field. tell us what you would like listed, or send us articles we can print to inform others of your pet interests. Should we accept advertising copy from you to print within these pages? is the format easy to collow and read? How can we improve it what do you think about the hand printed text compared to the typed text? do you prefer a Bi-Weekly issue or a monthly issue?

Let us aim this question at the coin collectors. The 1968-S proof set has a dime, quarter and half dollar S mint which will be proof only as none were made for regular circulation. Should the publishers include these coins in the date collection albums or leave them out? Why?

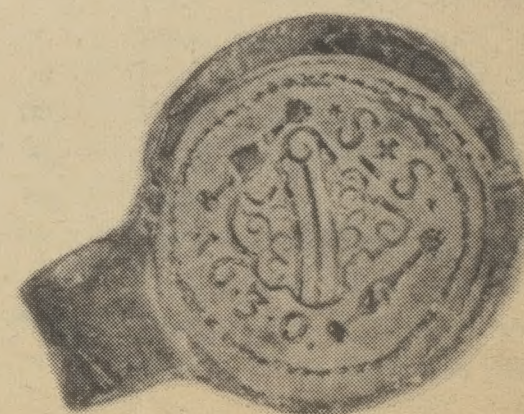

This section, (Clients comments) will be wide open for your remarks or gripes. Let's hear from you. Thank you.

SWITZERLAND - SHOOTING MEDALS

NOW, ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR COUNTRIES AMONG COIN COLLECTORS IS ALSO THE LEADING PRODUCER OF ANOTHER POPULAR FIELD--SHOOTING MEDALS. BECAUSE OF NATURAL POPULARITY AND LOW MINTAGE (50 TO 2000 PIECES) THESE SHOOTING MEDALS WILL PROVE TO BE A FINE INVESTMENT.

WE HAVE SELECTED A FEW MEDALS, LISTED BELOW. 95% OF THOSE LISTED ARE NOT LISTED IN THE FINE CATALOG "SWISS SHOOTING TALERS AND MEDALS" BY D.L. KRAUSE, PUB. BY WHITMAN PUB. CO. (1965). SOME OF THE FINEST ENGRAVERS IN EUROPE HAD THEIR HAND IN THE BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS REPRESENTED.

REF. NO. ARE FROM "KRAUSE" OR "ELARK". "UNC." MEANS UNLISTED IN EITHER.
